

Try This!

Prairie dogs live in burrows. They build the burrows underground. Prairie dogs also go outside of their burrows.

Look at the prairie dog burrow on page 22. Circle each prairie dog that is doing what prairie dogs would never do. Your teacher will hold a class discussion about how prairie dogs live inside and outside of their burrows.

- How many prairie dogs did you circle?
- How many prairie dogs do you see in the whole picture?

NATURAL INQUIRER 2014

Hint: Prairie dogs really do kiss!